Introduction

This one-week holiday is a journey through the best of southern Norway – combining scenic fjord landscapes, varied day walks and time to explore the historic cities of Bergen and Oslo. Travelling by local ferries and trains, including the famous Flam Railway and the spectacular Bergen-Oslo line, considered by many to be one of the most beautiful rail journeys in the world, we experience some of Norway's most dramatic and diverse scenery.

Our walks follow well-marked trails and include panoramic viewpoints above the King of the Fjords, the Sognefjord, and the summit of Sjebergsnuten (1166 m) with its sweeping views across the surrounding mountains and valleys.

When we're not walking, we travel comfortably between fjords and highlands using Norway's excellent public transport network – a relaxed and sustainable way to experience the country. Time in Bergen and Oslo offers the chance to explore their historic quarters, harbours and Nordic cuisine.

Bringing together Norway's mountains, fjords, cities and culture, this one-week adventure perfectly captures the essence of the country's south.

Is this holiday for you?

This holiday combines rewarding day walks with scenic rail and ferry journeys, offering a varied and immersive way to explore southern Norway. There are five days of walking, typically between 3 and 6 hours on well-marked trails, with daily ascents and descents of 300–450 metres. A good level of fitness will help you make the most of the experience, but no technical skills are required.

As this trip travels entirely by public transport, you'll need to be comfortable carrying your own luggage on and off trains and ferries, and walking short distances between hotels and stations. With a mix of walks, scenery, travel and culture, this holiday offers a fantastic introduction to the landscapes and character of southern Norway.

Joining Arrangements & Transfers

The holiday starts at our hotel in central Bergen on day one. Airport transfers are not included, as public transport to the city is quick and straightforward.

From Bergen Airport (Flesland) the easiest option is the Bergen Light Rail (Bybanen) Line 1, which runs directly from the terminal to central Bergen in around 40–45 minutes. Services run frequently throughout the day and tickets can be purchased from the machines at the station or via the Skyss Billett app.

Alternatively, the Flybussen airport express bus provides a faster journey of around 25–30 minutes into the city. Taxis are also readily available for door-to-door travel.

The holiday ends after breakfast on the final day at our hotel in central Oslo. Again, airport transfers are not included, but travelling independently to Oslo Gardermoen Airport is simple.

From Oslo Central Station (Oslo S) you can take the Flytoget Airport Express Train, which reaches the airport in approximately 19–22 minutes and runs frequently throughout the day. The standard Vy trains also operate from Oslo S to the airport; these are slightly slower but offer an excellent-value alternative.

Hotel contact details and an emergency number will be provided with your booking confirmation.

Meal Plan

7 breakfasts, 5 lunches and 3 dinners are included in the cost of your holiday.

Special Diets

Whilst we can cater for vegetarians, albeit sometimes with a more limited choice, we cannot always provide for special diets. Due to the nature of some of the trips that we operate and the countries in which we operate them, it can be very hard (and sometimes impossible) to cater for a wide range of dietary choices and you may have to supplement your meals with food/snacks from home. If you have specific dietary requirements please do speak to our sales team and they will be able to advise you whether or not we will be able to offer your specific choice. Please note that we are unable to provide separate menus and cannot accept liability for any problems arising from special dietary requirements or intolerances.

Food & Water

The tap water in Norway is among the cleanest and freshest in the world and is perfectly safe to drink throughout this holiday. Please use this to refill your personal water bottles each day rather than purchasing single-use plastic bottles.

Breakfasts are taken at our hotels and are typically generous buffet spreads, with a selection of breads, cold meats, cheeses, cereals, fruit, eggs, and traditional Norwegian accompaniments such as brunost (a sweet brown whey cheese) and a range of jams including cloudberry. Tea, coffee, and fruit juice are always available.

Lunches will generally be picnic style, prepared from items bought locally or from the breakfast buffet. Expect sandwiches, fruit, snacks, and other light options suitable for our walking days. Your guide will advise on good local shops or bakeries when appropriate.

Evening meals will mostly be taken in local restaurants or at the hotel, allowing us to enjoy the excellent regional cuisine. Norwegian food is fresh, simple, and hearty – think freshly caught fish, cured meats, potatoes, and seasonal vegetables. Coastal areas such as Bergen and Balestrand are famous for their seafood, while inland you'll find mountain lamb and game dishes. There will also be opportunities to try local specialities such as fish soup, stockfish, or reindeer stew.

Vegetarians are well catered for, though options may be simpler or less varied in smaller towns.

Accommodation

We spend the week in a selection of comfortable, well-located hotels chosen for their character, convenience and Norwegian hospitality.

In Bergen we stay for two nights at a modern city-centre hotel, within walking distance of the harbour and the historic Bryggen Wharf.

In the fjord village of Balestrand, we spend one night at a traditional fjordside hotel such as the Midtnes, offering magnificent views across the Sognefjord.

Two nights are spent at the Vatnahalsen Fjellstue, a historic mountain hotel set high above the Flåm Valley and accessible only by train on the famous Flåmsbana line. The hotel offers warm hospitality, hearty home-cooked meals and a peaceful atmosphere surrounded by lakes and peaks.

Finally, we spend our last two nights in Oslo, again at a centrally located Hotel, close to the main station and many of the city's main attractions.

All rooms throughout the tour are en-suite, and bed linen and towels are provided. A single supplement is available for those requesting their own room.

Group Leader & Support Staff

The group will be led by a professional and qualified tour leader.

Altitude

This holiday does not involve any significant ascent to altitude and we would not expect any altitude issues with this trip.

Guidance on Tipping

Tipping is the accepted way of saying 'thank you' to your tour leader. Tipping is entirely voluntary and should be dependent on good service. We recommend that you decide levels of tipping and give any tips as a group rather than from individual group members.

Baggage Allowance

As this holiday travels by public transport, you will need to carry your own luggage between stations, hotels and ferry ports. For this reason, we strongly recommend travelling light and compact. A medium-sized wheeled bag or travel rucksack (no more than 15-18kg when packed) and one small daypack for daily essentials is ideal. There are no KE-imposed weight limits beyond your airline's restriction, but please remember that you will need to lift your bag on and off trains and boats, and occasionally carry it short distances on foot. Travelling light will make your journey far more enjoyable and manageable.

Group Size & Holiday Status

For each holiday there is a minimum number of participants required to enable it to go ahead. Once the minimum number is reached, the trip status will change from 'Available' to 'Guaranteed to run'. You can check the trip status for each departure in the 'Dates and Prices' table. Other than in exceptional circumstances, we will not cancel a trip once it has achieved this guaranteed to run status so you are free to proceed with your international flight booking and other travel arrangements.

The unit of currency in Norway is the Norwegian Krone.

Preparing for your Holiday

This holiday includes a series of walks and journeys using Norway's excellent network of public transport, with some sections on foot between stations, accommodation and viewpoints. Getting a bit of additional exercise before you travel will make a big difference to your enjoyment. You should be aerobically fit and comfortable walking for 3 to 6 hours on consecutive days, often with moderate ascents and descents. Regular hill or countryside walking is the best preparation, ideally carrying a light daypack. Activities such as running, cycling or swimming are also excellent for building general fitness and stamina. Travelling light and being confident moving with your own luggage will also make your journey smoother and more enjoyable.

Climate

Southern Norway enjoys a relatively mild climate thanks to the influence of the Gulf Stream. Along the coast, including Bergen and the Sognefjord, temperatures in summer typically range between 12°C and 20°C, though cooler days and rain showers are common. The mountains can be noticeably cooler, especially in the evenings or during unsettled weather.

June and early July tend to bring the longest days and most stable conditions, while late summer (August-September) often offers rich colours and crisp, clear air. As the weather in Norway can change quickly, it's important to be prepared for all conditions – bring lightweight waterproofs, warm layers, and comfortable walking footwear suitable for mixed terrain.

Travel Aware

As a reputable tour operator, KE supports the British Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office's 'Travel Aware' campaign to enable British citizens to prepare for their journeys overseas. The 'Travel Aware' website provides a single, authoritative source of advice for all kinds of travellers and we recommend that before travel, all KE clients visit the official UK Government website at travelaware.campaign.gov.uk and read the FCDO Travel Advice for their chosen destination. North Americans can also check out the U.S. Department of State website: www.travel.state.gov for essential travel advice and tips.

KE treat the safety and security of all clients as the most important aspect of any trip we organise. We would not run any trip that we did not consider reasonably safe. Should the FCDO advise against travel for any reason, we will contact everyone booked to travel to discuss the situation. We receive regular updates directly from the FCDO and are in constant touch with our contacts on the ground. If you have any questions about government travel advice, please call our office.

Single Use Plastic

KE do not encourage the use of single use plastic items. We are ensuring that our agents all over the world are working together to reduce the problem and educate those around them. We are leading by example in our KE office by reducing our plastic use.
