Introduction

Eighty kilometres west of the Ladakhi capital of Leh, and close to the northern end of the Trans-Zaskar Trek, the snow-capped 6050 metre-high peak of Tsomothang rises above the glacier of the same name. Accessed from Hanupatta across two 5000 metre passes, this rarely climbed and technically undemanding mountain provides an excellent trekking challenge and the opportunity for any keen trekker or aspiring mountaineer to tick off a 6000 metre Himalayan peak. Views from the summit extend westwards to the twin 7000 metre peaks of Nun and Kun and northwards to the mighty peaks of the Karakoram, including distant K2. Flying in to Leh at 3500 metres, we have several days of acclimatising amongst the colourful and often dramatically-located Buddhist monasteries which are a feature of the upper valley of the Indus River. This gives us an excellent insight into the history and culture of Ladakh and an appreciation of the stark beauty of a region known as 'Little Tibet'. Trekking for a week on scant trails, the only people we are likely to meet are nomadic shepherds and their livestock (sheep and yaks), whilst we will also be on the look-out for the local wildlife, including marmots, ibex, blue-sheep and the ever-impressive bearded vulture or lammergeier.

Is this holiday for you?

Trekking above 5000 metres and ascending to a summit above 6000 metres, this new trekking and climbing holiday is physically demanding. The ascent of Tsomothang is, however, not technically demanding and experience of using crampons and an ice-axe is preferable but not essential. The approach trek traverses remote valleys that see few trekkers and the trails will not always be well defined. There may also be unbridged stream crossings and patches of old snow to negotiate. On summit day, we rope up to cross a level glacier before starting the ascent which will involve scree, boulder slopes and open snow slopes. The guides will rope up the group where necessary.

Delhi Sightseeing Tour - Full day

Old Delhi is centred on the Red Fort and is a labyrinth of narrow, bustling streets including Chandni Chowk bazaar. Must-sees here include the Red Fort, built by Emperor Shah Jahan; Hummayan's Tomb, constructed in similar style to the Taj Mahal and the towering Qutab Minar minaret. New Delhi was the creation of the British Raj who wanted to show their ascendancy over the former Mogul rulers with many grand buildings designed by the greatest ever British architect, Sir Edwin Lutyens. Exploring this area by vehicle will give a glimpse of this interesting aspect of India.

Food & Water

Breakfast is provided each morning, as well as lunch and snacks throughout the trip. Dinner is provided every night.

All meals are included in the price of this trip as marked on the daily itinerary. Local pubs and restaurants offer a wide choice of local dishes.

On this trip, we generally eat dinner as a group however if you would like to make alternative arrangements you are free to do so. Your guide will have an evening off during this trip where they do not eat with the group. They will recommend options for dinner that evening and will help you make any necessary reservations.

Water is drinkable from the taps on this holiday. Please fill your personal bottles for your day in the morning. We do not encourage the purchasing of single use plastic bottles.

The food served during the trek is a mixture of local and Western food, mostly purchased locally and cooked for us by highly trained trek cooks. The emphasis is on providing a high-carbohydrate and largely vegetarian diet, which we have found to be easily digestible at high altitude. In Delhi and in Leh, we take our meals in the group hotel or in nearby restaurants. All meals while on trek and while staying in hotels are included in the trip price.

It is not recommended to drink untreated water from the taps. If you are on a trekking or cycling holiday, water is supplied to fill up your individual bottles. This will be boiled, filtered or provided in large jerry cans or 5 litre bottles. Additionally you should take purification tablets or a filter bottle (such as a Water-To-Go bottle) to treat your water when in towns or where water is not supplied. We do not encourage the purchasing of single use plastic bottles.

Accommodation

On arrival in Delhi and for one night after the trek, we stay at a hotel close to the airport which provides convenient and comfortable accommodation. Being near the airport makes the whole travel experience more relaxing. In Leh, we have 5 nights in a good tourist standard of hotel. Whilst on trek there are 8 nights camping. All accommodation is allocated on a twin sharing basis. If you are travelling by yourself, you will be paired up with another single client of the same sex. Single hotel rooms and/or single tents are available for a supplementary cost. If you are planning on extending your holiday additional nights at the group hotel are available on request.

Group Leader & Support Staff

The group will be accompanied by an experienced, professional leader throughout the trip. During the trek, there will also be a full trek crew, including a local guide or sirdar, a team of Sherpas, a cook and a number of pack-animals and their handlers.

Altitude

This holiday involves going to very high altitude. During the course of your trip you will be spending at least one night above 4000 metres and/or trekking to 5000 metres or above. This is not something that you should worry about; the human body is quite capable of adapting to a very wide range of altitudes, but it is important that we follow some simple rules in order to acclimatise successfully. Before coming on this holiday you should read the advice on trekking at high altitude. Unless you have previous experience of trekking above 4000 metres you should consult one of our trekking experts before embarking on this holiday. On this trip we carry a portable altitude chamber (PAC-bag) and/or bottled oxygen for use in emergencies.

Spending Money

Approximately £200 (or equivalent in euros, US dollars etc.) changed into local currency, should be allowed for miscellaneous expenses, including trek crew tips, soft drinks, etc. It is not necessary to purchase local currency (Indian Rupees) before you travel. We recommend taking your personal spending money in cash since you will be changing the majority of this into local currency on the day of arrival. Sterling, US dollars and euros are readily exchanged in Delhi or in Leh. Credit cards can be used to purchase many goods in Delhi and are particularly useful for more expensive souvenirs. It is also possible to withdraw cash (rupees only) from cash machines in certain banks in Delhi using credit and debit cards.

Guidance on Tipping

Tipping is the accepted way of saying thank you for good service. Normally the trek staff are given their tips at the end of the trek and this is best done as a group and with a simple ceremony. Your tour leader will advise the group on an appropriate level of tipping. As a guide, we recommend that each group member contributes around £90 (in rupees) to these tips - although the amount you give is entirely up to you. At the end of their trek many people also like to donate various items of equipment to the trek staff who work so hard to make the trip a success. Boots, gloves, hats, scarves and even socks are always warmly received. Please note that you will have the opportunity to tip your tour leader separately (and additionally) during dinner on the final evening of the holiday.

Baggage Allowance

For this holiday you should take one piece of luggage, which should be a soft and sturdy duffel bag, and a day pack. Your baggage on trek will be carried by porters or pack animals. The packed weight of your trek bag whilst trekking should be no more than 15kg. Please note that the check-in baggage limit on all internal flights within India is now 15kg with a maximum cabin baggage limit of 7kg and you are responsible for any excess baggage fees that the airline may apply. From time to time cabin baggage (other than laptops, cameras and valuables) is not allowed on the Leh flight for security reasons. In this event, the limit for check-in baggage may be increased to 20kg at the discretion of the check-in staff. It is possible to leave travel clothes and any other items not required on trek at the group hotel.

Group Size & Holiday Status

For each holiday there is a minimum number of participants required to enable it to go ahead. Once the minimum number is reached, the trip status will change from 'Available' to 'Guaranteed to run'. You can check the trip status for each departure in the 'Dates and Prices' table. Other than in exceptional circumstances, we will not cancel a trip once it has achieved this guaranteed to run status so you are free to proceed with your international flight booking and other travel arrangements.

Severe Allergies:

If you have a severe allergy please inform the KE office before you travel. We will do all we can to help, but we cannot guarantee an allergy free environment on KE trips.

Preparing for your Holiday

It makes a lot of sense to spend some time before coming on a trekking or climbing trip getting some additional exercise. The fitter you are, after all, the more enjoyable you will find the experience. For this trip you need to be aerobically fit and comfortable walking for 6 or 7 hours on several days and longer than that on summit day. Previous experience of walking on easy snow slopes wearing crampons is recommended as is previous experience of trekking at altitude (above 5000 metres). We would suggest that you adopt a weekly exercise regime leading up to your trip. Regular hiking in hill country is the best training but running, cycling and swimming are also good for developing cardio vascular fitness and stamina.

Climate

During July and August the temperature in Delhi will be hot (35°C or even a few degrees hotter than this). It will also be humid. On the high plateau of Ladakh, the maximum daytime temperature low down on our trek (and at Leh) will be around 15°C, with night-time lows below 10°C. At our highest camps, the night-time temperature may fall as low as minus 20°C. Climbing on the Mentoks, the temperature will vary from sub-zero in the early morning to 10°C. At high altitude, the sun has a very strong effect and at the height of the day it will feel hotter than the indicated temperatures. Ladakh is not adversely affected by the monsoon and we can usually expect stable, weather. However, mountains do generate their own weather systems and some rain or snowfall cannot be ruled out.

Travel Aware

As a reputable tour operator, KE supports the British Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office's 'Travel Aware' campaign to enable British citizens to prepare for their journeys overseas. The 'Travel Aware' website provides a single, authoritative source of advice for all kinds of travellers and we recommend that before travel, all KE clients visit the official UK Government website at travelaware.campaign.gov.uk and read the FCDO Travel Advice for their chosen destination. North Americans can also check out the U.S. Department of State website: www.travel.state.gov for essential travel advice and tips.

KE treat the safety and security of all clients as the most important aspect of any trip we organise. We would not run any trip that we did not consider reasonably safe. Should the FCDO advise against travel for any reason, we will contact everyone booked to travel to discuss the situation. We receive regular updates directly from the FCDO and are in constant touch with our contacts on the ground. If you have any questions about government travel advice, please call our office.

Single Use Plastic

KE do not encourage the use of single use plastic items. We are ensuring that our agents all over the world are working together to reduce the problem and educate those around them. We are leading by example in our KE office by reducing our plastic use.
